

Rob Hofmann

Mr. Hofmann is an associate with Abbott & Kindermann, LLP. His practice focuses on transactional real estate, business, and land use matters.

REAL ESTATE: Mr. Hofmann advises clients on a variety of commercial and industrial real estate matters, including complex sale transactions and lease arrangements. He specializes in the negotiation and preparation of purchase and sale, lease, license and easement agreements, and he facilitates property exchange transactions, resolves title and escrow issues, and assists clients with a variety of property tax and exemption (e.g., religious and welfare) issues.

BUSINESS: Mr. Hofmann counsels clients on an array of business matters including entity formation, management, and dissolution (e.g., limited liability companies and Subchapter S corporations), and he advises and represents clients on regulatory compliance, permitting and licensing (e.g., Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC)) issues.

LAND USE: Mr. Hofmann advises and assists property owners and developers with land use entitlement and related planning and zoning matters (e.g., rezones, conditional use permits, variances, subdivisions), including representation before commissions, boards, and councils. Mr. Hofmann specializes in the negotiation and drafting of complex land use agreements (representing both developers and public entities), including development, reimbursement, and complex multi-agency agreements.

Mr. Hofmann currently serves on the City of Davis Planning Commission and the San Joaquin Valley Air Pollution Control District Hearing Board (Northern Region).

Education:

MBA (2005) University of California, Davis
MS Taxation (2000) San Jose State University
JD (1999) University of California, Davis
BA (1994) University of California, Davis